MEMORANDUM OF LAW JURY NULLIFICATION

10

The purpose of this memorandum is to clarify for the court that the People being the author and source of law have the unalienable right as jurist to judge the law as well as the facts in controversy, to exercise its prerogative of nullification, sentencing, and to disregard instructions of the judge. It is the Jury that is the final arbitrator of all things and not the judge, this is government by consent! Any judge who forces his will upon

65 JURY'S RESPONSIBILITY IS TO DELIVER JUSTICE NOT UPHOLD THE LAW

"The pages of history shine on instances of the jury's exercise of its prerogative to disregard instructions of the judge."

Jury Nullification, by Dr. Julian Heicklen

70 Jury nullification was introduced into America in 1735 in the trial of John Peter Zenger, Printer of The New York Weekly Journal. Zenger repeatedly attacked Governor William Cosby of New York in his journal. This was a violation of the seditious libel law, which prohibited criticism of the King or his appointed officers. The attacks became sufficient to bring Zenger to trial. He clearly was guilty of breaking the law, which held that true statements could be libelous. However Zenger's lawyer, Andrew Hamilton, addressed himself to the jury, arguing that the court's law was outmoded. Hamilton contended that falsehood was the principal thing that makes a libel. It took the jury only a few minutes to nullify the law and declare Zenger not guilty. Ever since, the truth has been a defense in libel cases.

80 Several state constitutions, including the Georgia Constitution of 1777 and the Pennsylvania Constitution of 1790 specifically provided that “the jury shall be judges of law, as well as fact.” In Pennsylvania, Supreme Court Justice James Wilson noted, in his Philadelphia law lectures of 1790, that when “a difference in sentiment takes place between the judges and jury, with regard to a point of law,...The jury must do their duty, and their whole duty; they must decide the law as well as the fact.” In 1879, the Pennsylvania Supreme Court noted that “the power of the jury to be judge of the law in criminal cases is one of the most valuable securities guaranteed by the Bill of Rights.”

90 John Jay, the first Chief Justice of the U. S. Supreme Court stated in 1789,
"The jury has the right to judge both the law as well as the fact in controversy." Samuel Chase, US. Supreme Court Justice and signer of the Declaration of Independence, said in 1796: "The jury has the right to 95 determine both the law and the facts." U.S. Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said in 1902: "The jury has the power to bring a verdict in the teeth of both law and fact." Harlan F. Stone, the 12th Chief Justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, stated in 1941: "The law itself is on trial quite as much as the cause which is to be decided."

100 In a 1972 decision (U.S. v Dougherty, 473 F 2nd 1113, 1139), the Court said: "The pages of history shine on instances of the jury's exercise of its prerogative to disregard instructions of the judge."

105 Likewise, the U.S. Supreme Court in Duncan v Louisiana implicitly endorsed the policies behind nullification when it stated, "If the defendant preferred the common-sense judgment of the jury to the more tutored but less sympathetic reaction of the single judge, he was to have it."

110 In recent times, the courts have tried to erode the nullification powers of juries. Particular impetus for this was given by the fact that all-white juries in the southern states refused to convict whites of crimes against blacks. As a result, there is a practice of judges to incorrectly instruct the jury that the judge determines the law, and that the jury is limited to determining the facts. Such an instruction defeats the purpose of the jury, which is to protect the defendant from the tyranny of the state. The purpose of the jury is to protect the defendant from the tyranny of the law.

115 The problem with the all-white juries that refused to convict whites that committed crimes against blacks was not in jury nullification, but in jury selection. The jury was not representative of the community and would not provide a fair and impartial trial.

120 In recent years, jury nullification has played a role in the trials of Mayor Marion Barry of Washington, DC for drug use, Oliver North for his role in the Iran-Contra Affair, and Bernhard Goetz for his assault in a New York City subway.

In Les Miserables, Victor Hugo highlighted the difference between justice and law. The jury's responsibility is to deliver justice, not to uphold the law.

125 Judges in Maryland and Indiana are required by law to inform the jury of its right to nullification. Article 23 of the Maryland Bill of Rights states:

“In the trial of all criminal cases, the Jury shall be the judge of Law, as well as of fact, except that the Court may pass upon the sufficiency of the evidence to sustain a conviction.”

130 Nullification applies just as much in other states, including Pennsylvania. Article I of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania states in Section 6, “Trial by jury shall be as heretofore (emphasis mine), and the right thereof remain inviolate.” Section 25 states: “To guard against transgressions of the high powers which we have delegated, we declare that everything in this article is excepted out of the general powers of government and shall forever remain inviolate.” Taken together, these two sections mean that juries shall have the powers that they had “heretofore”, i. e. when the Constitution was adopted.

140 Judges usually do not inform the jury of this right. Even worse, some judges instruct the jury that it does not have the right to interpret or nullify the law, but only to determine the facts. Near the end of alcohol prohibition, juries refused to convict for alcohol violations. Has the time arrived for juries to do the same for marijuana violations?

NULLIFICATION WAS NEVER MOOT

145 “it would be an 'absurdity' for jurors to be required to accept the judge's view of the law, against their own opinion, judgment, and conscience” John Adams

“It is useful to distinguish between the jury’s right to decide questions of law and its power to do so. The jury's power to decide the law in returning a general verdict is indisputable. The debate of the nineteenth century revolved around the question of whether the jury had a legal and moral right to decide questions of law.”<sup>26</sup>

150 “Underlying the conception of the jury as a bulwark against the unjust use of governmental power were the distrust of ‘legal experts’ and a faith in the ability of the common people. Upon this faith rested the prevailing political philosophy of the constitution framing era: that popular control over, and participation in, government should be maximized. Thus John Adams stated that ‘the common people...should have as complete a control, as decisive a negative, in every judgment of a court of judicature’ as they have, through the legislature, in other decisions of government.”<sup>27</sup>

This view is reflected in John Adams' statement that it would be an ‘absurdity’ for jurors to be required to accept the judge's view of the law, ‘against their own opinion, judgment, and conscience.’”<sup>28</sup>

165 “During the first third of the nineteenth century,...judges frequently charged juries that they were the judges of law as well as the fact and were not bound by the judge's instructions. A charge that the jury had the right to consider the law had a corollary at the level of trial procedure: counsel had the right to argue the law, its interpretation and its validity to the jury.”<sup>29</sup>

NULLIFICATION THE UNALIENABLE RIGHT OF THE PEOPLE THIS IS GOVERNMENT BY CONSENT

170 “The pages of history shine on instances of the jury's exercise of its prerogative to disregard instructions of the judge”<sup>30</sup>. “*It is presumed, that the juries are the best judges of facts; it is, on the other hand, presumed that the courts are the best judges of law. ### UNALIENABLE RIGHT OF THE JURY IN SENTENCING

285 “There is no statutory proscription against making the jury aware of possible punishment. Instead, courts that have disallowed juror awareness of sentencing contingencies have peremptorily resorted to the fact finding - sentencing dichotomy to justify this denial. For example, the Eighth Circuit, in United States v. Goodface, merely stated that ‘the penalty to be imposed upon a defendant is not a matter for the jury’ and so it was proper not to inform the jury of a mandatory minimum term.<sup>59</sup> No further justification is given. In making this facile distinction, the courts have created an artificial, and poorly constructed, fence around the jury's role.”

290 “The Supreme Court has not mandated that juries be in the dark on the issue of sentence. Those courts so ruling have done so on unconvincing grounds. The power of jury nullification historically has extended to sentencing decisions, and it rightfully should extend to such decisions. This court finds no precedential rationale for rejecting the defendant’s motion.”<sup>60</sup>

PROPER INSTRUCTIONS TO THE JURY

Instruction to Jurors in criminal cases in Maryland,<sup>61</sup> “Members of the Jury, this is a criminal case and under the Constitution and the laws of the State of Maryland in a criminal case the jury are the judges of the law as well as of the facts in the case. So that whatever I tell you about the law while it is intended to be helpful to you in reaching a just and proper verdict in the case, it is not binding upon you as members of the jury and you may accept or reject it. And you may apply the law as you apprehend it to be in the case.”

United States v. Moylan,<sup>62</sup> “If the jury feels the law is unjust, we recognize the undisputed power of the jury to acquit, even if its verdict is contrary to the law as given by a judge, and contrary to the evidence...If the jury feels that the law under which the defendant is accused is unjust, or that exigent circumstances justified the actions of the accused, or for any reason which appeals to their logic or passion, the jury has the power to acquit, and the courts must abide by that decision.”

Alan Schefflin and Jon Van Dyke (“Jury Nullification: the Contours of a Controversy,” Law and Contemporary Problems, 43, No.4, 1980) - “The arguments for opposing the nullification instruction are, in our view, deficient because they fail to weigh the political advantages gained by not lying to the jury...What impact will this deception have on jurors who felt coerced into their verdict by the judge's instructions and who learn, after trial, that they could have voted their consciences and acquitted? Such a juror is less apt to respect the legal system.”

JURY DECISION IS FINAL THIS IS GOVERNMENT BY CONSENT

- Justice Kent<sup>63</sup> - “The true criterion of a legal power is its capacity to produce a definitive effect, liable neither to censure nor review. And the verdict of not guilty in a criminal case, is, in every respect, absolutely final. The jury are not liable to punishment, nor the verdict to control. No attain lies, nor can a new trial be awarded. The exercise of this power in the jury has been sanctioned, and upheld in constant activity, from the earliest ages.”
- H.G. Wells - “The Jury is the Achilles heel of tyrants.”

THE FINAL ARBITRATOR OF ALL THINGS

335 “The decisions of a superior court may only be challenged in a court of appeal. The decisions of an inferior court are subject to collateral attack. In other words, in a superior court one may sue an inferior court directly, rather than resort to appeal to an appellate court. Decision of a court of record [trial by jury] may not be appealed. It is binding on ALL other courts. However, no statutory or constitutional court (whether it be an appellate or Supreme Court) can second guess the judgment of a court of record. The judgment of a court of record [trial by jury], whose jurisdiction is final, is as conclusive on all the world as the judgment of this court would be. It is as conclusive on 340 this court as it is on other courts. It puts an end to inquiry concerning the fact, by deciding it.”<sup>64</sup>

We the People are the most qualified to make and decide law because we are the author of the Law and we vested Congress with statute making powers<sup>65</sup> that We the People in our courts of Justice reserve the right to consent or deny by nullification according to 345 the facts of the case as we see fit. Furthermore, as a Nation, we called upon our Creator in our founding document to be the King of our courts of Justice and not man whereas we read:

350 When in the Course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

355 We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.--That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed... - Declaration of Independence

<sup>65</sup> We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America. Preamble.

360 And by His Grace and Holy Will, We the People in 1789, were gifted with His Liberty<sup>66</sup> to “be what man was meant to be, Free and Independent.” “A consequence of this prerogative is the legal ubiquity of the king. His majesty in the eye of the law is always present in all his courts, though he cannot personally distribute justice.”<sup>67</sup> “His judges [We the People as Jury both grand and petit] are the mirror by which the king's image is reflected.”<sup>68</sup>

365 Since then (1789), we have been engaged in a battle against the rulers of darkness over the control of our courts as the final day of leviathan draws nigh.<sup>69</sup> We the People<sup>70</sup> sit on the Kings bench and are able to reflect His holy will as we read in His Word:

370 “This shall be the covenant that I will make with the house of Israel; After those days, saith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts; and will be their God, and they shall be my people.” God, Jeremiah 31:33.

“This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them.” - God, Hebrews 10:16.

375 Therefore, to permit the servant to rule the master is absurd, and as recent years have proven, the control of our courts by BAR members throughout the last quarter of the twentieth century has brought We the People under the rule of despotism of an oligarchy as Jefferson had warned.

<sup>69</sup> Isaiah 27:1-4 In that day the LORD with his sore and great and strong sword shall punish leviathan the piercing serpent, even leviathan that crooked serpent; and he shall slay the dragon that [is] in the sea. In that day sing ye unto her, A vineyard of red wine. I the LORD do keep it; I will water it every moment: lest any hurt it, I will keep it night and day. Fury is not in me: who would set the briers and thorns against me in battle? I would go through them, I would burn them together. Isaiah 14:1-4 For the LORD will have mercy on Jacob, and will yet choose Israel, and set them in their own land: and the strangers shall be joined with them, and they shall cleave to the house of Jacob. And the people shall take them, and bring them to their place: and the house of Israel shall possess them in the land of the LORD for servants and handmaids: and they shall take them captives, whose captives they were; and they shall rule over their oppressors. And it shall come to pass in the day that the LORD shall give thee rest from thy sorrow, and from thy fear, and from the hard bondage wherein thou wast made to serve, That thou shalt take up this proverb against the king of Babylon, and say, How hath the oppressor ceased! the golden city ceased!

<sup>70</sup> Exodus 4:22 - And thou shalt say unto Pharaoh, Thus saith the LORD, Israel is my son, even my firstborn:

380 We the People of the Kings bench (jury), being the source and arbiter of the law, have a duty and an unalienable right to judge and decide in all things, which includes sentencing with an eye on restitution, as the tribunal of all lawful courts. To deny our unalienable right of consent in these things is to war against We the People; thereby, our word is final.
